

Our Vision in a nutshell

Everything we do at Ot Oo'Mofet is designed to make known two of God's names: "the God of Israel" and "the Father to the fatherless and the Defender of Widows".

We have quite a few new projects going on this year, all targeted towards this vision. I will share about them in my next few updates.

Let's start with the one I already shared about - sowing towards the restoration of holocaust survivors.

2015's Project #1: Holocaust Survivors

Providing assistance and care for holocaust survivors is a major way to restore Israel's brokenness.

On our previous update I shared about Rachel. Due to the deterioration of her eyesight, Rachel's greatest need was for telescopic specialized glasses, that would allow her to go back to doing the things she loves most - painting, using her computer, reading, cooking. Last week I went with her to the specialist, and we tried on the desired glasses! O the blessing of being able to read again independently for the first time in years! It was so precious to witness!

Next I took Rachel to the Romanian embassy, to prove she was born three year prior to the date mentioned in her Israeli ID. It happened often during WW2, as the immigration officers were in haste to just write some kind of date on the papers. Once the proper date will be registered correctly in Rachel's ID, she will be eligible for various benefits that will improve the quality of her daily routine.

We also helped her to install an air-conditioning unit in her smoldering home, which is simmering in the impossible Israeli summer heat. This past week 95% humidity was registered in the coastal area, where she lives. Try to walk, live, eat and sleep in a sauna. Your lungs shrink because of the hot air. Now our Rachel can also sleep, rest and function normally. Our heartfelt thanks go out to all who contributed towards this project and have deeply touched her heart.

"It is an Angel..."

Rachel is at awe with all the help she receives. I told her that most of it comes from gentiles who love Israel. "There's an angel watching over me", she responded. I immediately started correcting her.

"It is not an angel, it's God".

"No", she insisted, "It is an angel". Ok, I thought, let her be.

special pair of telescopic glasses*

And all of a sudden I broke down in tears. An Angel. The Angel of God's Faces (Isa. 63:19). The Angel who is hidden, the one Isaiah calls "the Angel of God's presence" ("Faces" in Hebrew).

Rachel is aware of His existence, and here I am trying to correct her.

The Angel of God's Faces is one of the ways God revealed himself to the people of Israel throughout history. But we have rebelled against Him and turned our backs to Him, and over time He has become our enemy. Rachel may not make the connection yet between Yeshua and the Angel, and maybe - like so many of our people - she still sees Yeshua as an enemy, but her heart is soft towards that Angel, and now He is revealing more of His faces to her through gentiles who love her from afar. I was blown away!

Rachel and I are filling multitudes of forms in an attempt to claim restitution from Germany for all the suffering she has endured during the holocaust. I go over all the minute details with her, names of places and dates and so forth. This is all very difficult for her. She sheds many tears, and after each meeting like that she is exhausted. Please remember her in your prayers.

My Book "Woven With Gold"

In 2012 I published this book in Hebrew. It describes the healing process one can go through, using the furnishings of the Tabernacle. There is a workbook within the book itself.

One of the major projects we hope to finish soon is its translation into English. We recently received the funds needed for translating and preparing it for printing. This has been our heart's desire and prayer for years, and we can finally make this great book available for English readers as well.

Adi, my sister and assistant, will do the translation, and you are welcome to pray for her time and anointing as she works on it.

My mom and I

My mom loved to hear me teaching. She would gladly enjoy most of my seminars and workshops around the country

It didn't mean she always applied, but she loved to be there

My own orphanhood

I returned from the US and England in June. It took me a few weeks to realize that jetlag was still there, that I was still so weary, couldn't focus, had difficulty to perform the simplest of tasks etc.

When I shared it with my team, they immediately reminded me I am mourning, and that I am probably not handling it properly.

So in the last few weeks I have been meeting with one of the top authorities in Israel on grief recovery - Lynn Halamish. After the very first session I already felt a significant change. Memories started flooding in, I chose to handle each one of them through either repentance or forgiveness, and something inside me started clearing and being renewed.

I am still going through the process, taking the long route through it and processing it all. Your prayers for me are appreciated!
